

Modernize on Azure with Rubrik Security Cloud

Tap into the value of Azure with cyber resilient data protection from Rubrik and Microsoft

Cloud adoption is growing exponentially, with the average organization's data footprint surging by 73% last year. Leading this charge is Microsoft Azure, trusted by 85% of Fortune 500 companies for their critical workloads. However, this rapid adoption has made the cloud a prime target for cybercriminals, with 94% of cloud tenants targeted by cyberattacks last year. These attackers have grown more sophisticated, moving beyond simple encryption to exfiltrating data for double extortion campaigns. In addition, the shared responsibility model makes one thing clear: you are ultimately responsible for protecting your data in Azure. This raises a critical question for every organization:

How can your cloud data remain resilient and recoverable from cyberattacks and operational failures, while still meeting IT budget goals?
